Spouses' Club awards grants, scholarships at recognition luau

by Dani Lander, Fort Leavenworth Spouses' Club Special Events and Fundraising Board Member/Special to the Fort Leavenworth Lamp

The Fort Leavenworth Spouses' Club closed out the year in style with a luau-themed social May 15 at the Frontier Conference Center, but the real celebration centered around the presentation of FLSC scholarship and grant awards.

The merit-based scholarships are a cornerstone of FLSC's commitment to supporting the educational pursuits of dependents and spouses of sponsors residing within a 40-mile radius of Fort Leavenworth.

Through the tireless efforts of its members and the generosity of the local community and the Fort Leavenworth Thrift Shop, FLSC was able to award a total of $13,000 in scholarships to four deserving recipients this year.

The selection process was highly competitive, with 18 applicants vying for the coveted awards.

USDB commemorates 150 years

by Peter Grande, U.S. Disciplinary Barracks Historian/Special to the Fort Leavenworth Lamp

On May 21, the U.S. Disciplinary Barracks, the oldest Federal correctional facility, celebrated the 150th anniversary of the United States Congress approving the establishment of a military prison located on the military reservation at Fort Leavenworth.

The anniversary was commemorated with a three-day reunion full of events May 19-21, with more than 200 current and former staff participating.

More than 190 alumni attended a welcome reception May 19 at the VFW Post 56 in Leavenworth.

Peter Grande, USDB historian and former USDB chief of staff, kicked off the program with a presentation, "The History of the USDB: Changes Over Time," May 20 at the Lewis and Clark Center. Grande cited the USDB's worldwide reputation of being the "Military Center of Corrections Excellence" and traced the military prison's 150-year history, highlighting significant events by decades. The USDB was temporarily transferred to the Federal Prison System twice in its history to relieve crowding. Between 1895-1906, prisoners from Fort Leavenworth built the U.S. Penitentiary - Leavenworth, the first federal prison. The presentation also covered the expansion of the inmate population during wartime, the execution of soldiers and prisoners of war, infamous inmates, and the decision to build the new U.S. Disciplinary Barracks because the "Castle" was no longer structurally sound.

The 56th and current USDB Commandant Col. Kevin M. Payne thanked former USDB commandants, command sergeants major, and staff who returned for the celebration and told them they were the reason why the institution has such a reputation. Eighty-one-year-old retired Col. Forrest

Garrison Command Team urges safety, reflection this Memorial Day

SENIOR LEADERS' MESSAGE

by Fort Leavenworth Garrison Commander Col. Duane Mosier and Garrison Command Sgt. Maj. Erika Rhine-Russell

The first national observance of Memorial Day occurred on May 30, 1868.

Then known as Decoration Day, the holiday was proclaimed by John A. Logan, commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, to honor Union soldiers who died in the Civil War.

This national observance was preceded by many local ones before the end of the Civil War and before Logan's declaration. Many cities claimed to be the first to exercise such an observance; however, the National Cemetery Administration, a division of the Department of Veterans Affairs, credits Mary Ann Williams with originating the strewing flowers on the graves of Union and Confederate Civil War soldiers.

Official recognition as a holiday spread among the states, beginning with New York in 1873. By 1890, every Union state had adopted it.

In 1971, Congress standardized the holiday as "Memorial Day" and changed its observance to the last Monday in May.

Make it a safe holiday

The first holiday of the summer is upon us. We all have various activities scheduled for the weekend, which might include cookouts, picnics, boating, swimming, motor sports, work around the house, etc.

Army G2 warns of exploitation of soldiers, civilians, retirees, family members

Army Team,

Strategic competitors are actively targeting current and former Army soldiers, civilians, and family members. We have the most capable and well-trained Army in the world. The People's Liberation Army and others want to exploit your skills to improve their capabilities.

Adversaries leverage social media platforms to target members of our team. Through these platforms, adversaries request increasingly sensitive information, while using seemingly legitimate organizations to engage from. They are agnostic to rank and position. These factors, and many others increase the risk of U.S. people committing acts of espionage and national security level crimes.

Adversaries commonly use two tactics. First, they send requests for employment, white papers, think-tank participation, and other seemingly non-threatening information to members of the Army team via online platforms. They sometimes offer disproportionate payment (e.g., $1,000 for a two-page white paper). Other offers include all-expense-paid travel to China, Hong Kong or Macao. Second, they try to hire our Army professionals, with employment offers potentially coming from what appear to be legitimate consulting firms located in non-threat countries. These may be lucrative offers for outwardly innocuous training tasks and methods.

Accepting these offers improves the capabilities of our adversaries, erodes national security, and puts the safety of our teammates at risk.

If you or someone you know is being targeted or has been recruited, report it to your local counterintelligence professional or submit a report via www.inscom.army.mil/iSALUTE or 1-800-CALL-SPY (1-800-225-5779).

Screenshot from www.inscom.army.mil/iSALUTE

This targeting occurs across all parts of the Department of Defense. We must ensure all our teammates are aware of resources available to protect our force and mission, respond to our adversaries' attempts against us. We must remain vigilant to thwart our adversaries, protect our teammates, and ensure our capabilities are protected. We are counting on you.

This We'll Defend!

USD 207 receives national recognition for commitment to empower students

by Unified School District 207 Press Release

Unified School District 207 announced at the May 20 Board of Education meeting that it has been recognized as a 2023-24 Project Lead The Way (PLTW) Distinguished District for providing broad access to transformative learning experiences for students through its PLTW programs.

PLTW is a nonprofit organization that serves millions of pre-kindergarten through 12th grade students and teachers in schools across the United States.

"USD 207 continues to expand our PLTW offerings to students K-9 based on the success of this hands-on, engaging classroom learning," Deputy Superintendent Dr. SuAnn Grant said. "Whether it is a student at Patton learning to be a 'medical detective' or a kindergartner exploring 'animals and algorithms,' we have experienced that any age of student finds fun in their learning at higher levels through this STEM curricula."

The PLTW Distinguished District recognition honors districts committed to increasing student access, engagement and achievement in their PLTW programs. To be eligible for the designation, USD 207 had to have had 20 percent or more of its students in each grade, kindergarten through ninth grade, participate in a PLTW program during the 2022-23 school year, or each school in the district needed to receive the 2022-23 PLTW Distinguished School award.

Through PLTW programs, students develop in-demand knowledge and skills that they will use both in school and for the rest of their lives, on any career path they take. As PLTW students progress through grades pre-kindergarten through 12th grade, they are empowered to engage in problem-solving and process thinking, develop technical knowledge, build communication skills, and explore career opportunities. USD 207 offers PLTW Launch (kindergarten through fifth grade) at Bradley, Eisenhower and MacArthur Elementary Schools, and PLTW Gateway (sixth through eighth grades) along with select PLTW Engineering, and Biomedical Science (eighth and ninth grades) at Patton Junior High School.

"We are honored to recognize USD 207 for their commitment to providing students with exceptional educational experiences while ensuring equitable access to PLTW programs," said Dr. David Dimmett, PLTW president and CEO. "We congratulate them on this achievement and celebrate their dedication to empowering students with the knowledge and skills to succeed, not only in STEM subjects, but also preparing them for future careers and life beyond the classroom."

Army eliminates Distributed Leader Course

by Bill Ogletree/Director of Training and Education, NCO Leadership Center of Excellence

NCO LEADERSHIP CENTER OF EXCELLENCE, FT. BLISS, Texas - The Army is eliminating the requirement for all enlisted soldiers to complete the Distributed Leader Course (DLC I-VI) no later than Oct. 1, 2024.

DLC, formerly known as Structured Self-Development (SSD), has been a prerequisite for attendance to resident NCO Professional Military Education (PME) since its fielding in 2010.

In October 2023, The Army Chief of Staff directed the U.S. Army Training and Doctrine Command to "present options to eliminate and/or significantly reduce online training requirements prior to (resident) PME."

This requirement initiated a comprehensive review of all Distributed Learning Prerequisite (DL-P) requirements across the TRADOC enterprise. DL-P is defined as distributed learning required prior to acceptance and attendance of a PME Course.

The Army originally developed SSD (now DLC) in 2010 to bridge the operational and institutional domains and set conditions for continuous growth and lifelong learning. The current DLC courses were developed and updated in 2017 and fielded in 2019. The DLCs are prerequisites for resident PME courses and part of the Select, Train,

The Army is eliminating the requirement for all enlisted soldiers to complete the Distributed Leader Course (DLC I-VI) no later than Oct. 1, 2024. DLC, formerly known as Structured Self-Development (SSD), has been a prerequisite for attendance to resident NCO Professional Military Education (PME) since its fielding in 2010.

Educate, and Promote policy within the NCO Professional Development System.

In 2010, TRADOC's Institute of NCO Professional Development launched Structured Self-Development Courses, levels 1-5. These courses were a result of two main decisions the Army made during the Global War on Terrorism. The first was to fill an educational gap due to the phasing out of NCO Common Core curriculum from the proponents' Basic Non-commissioned Officers

Course (BNCOC), now the Advanced Leaders Course (ALC), and the Advanced Noncommissioned Officers Course (ANCOC), now the Senior Leaders Course (SLC), which were back-filled with military occupation specialty-specific technical and tactical tasks subjects in support of the Global War on Terrorism.

Secondly, in 2010, TRADOC published the Army Learning Concept for 2015, changing the focus of the Army's Learning Model to better meet the needs for the "soldier of 2015-2020."

This new learning model would blur the lines between the Operational Army and the Generating Force by meshing self-development, institutional instruction and operational experience. It also laid out how SSD was going to be implemented for all NCOs and how it will meet the needs of the Army Force Generation cycle.

DLC I is currently a requirement prior to attending the Basic Leader Course, DLC II prior to Advance Leader Course, DLC III prior to Senior Leader

Course, DLC IV prior to the Master Leader Course, DLC V prior to Sergeants Major Course, and DLC VI prior to the Nominative Leader Course. The same topics in DLC are covered again, more in depth, in the follow-on resident PME course. DLC was the theory in preparation for the application of the same topics once in resident NCO PME.

After careful consideration and a lot of analysis, the Army determined that there would be little to no negative impact to resident NCO PME learning outcomes if all six levels of the DLC were discontinued.

Headquarters, Department of the Army-G1 will release an exception to policy to remove the 8K bar (failure to complete required training) for those soldiers currently flagged for not completing the prerequisite DLC training. Removal of the 8K bar to continued service for failure to complete required SSD/DLC training opens potential for reenlistment/reclassification to more than 14,000 Regular Army soldiers as of March 2024.

As part of the distribution system (pipeline) maintenance program, American Water will be temporarily changing its disinfection treatment process at Fort Leavenworth from a chloramine (combined) residual to free chlorine residual.

This will only be temporary while American Water completes this system maintenance.

The free chlorine residual treatment change will take place throughout the month of June 2024.

“Sacred Service” exhibition opens at National WWI Museum

by National World War I Museum and Memorial Press Release

KANSAS CITY, Mo. – The National World War I Museum and Memorial announced its newest exhibition, Sacred Service.

Sacred Service highlights the chaplains from many faiths and fighting nations in WWI whose service provided friendship, compassion and spiritual guidance.

With hundreds of thousands enlisting to fight, religious guidance and leadership become priorities, and rabbis, pastors, monks, imams, priests answered the call. Many were as unprepared for the horrors of war as the soldiers they served, yet strove to bring courage, comfort and compassion to millions – on and off the battlefield. Sacred Service is a powerful view of the Great War beyond combat tactics and troop movements, and highlights the equally intense, yet singular experiences of the chaplains – whether faithful, doubting or visionary – as they counseled their legions.

“The individual stories of WWI highlight what ordinary people were experiencing during WWI. Sacred Service is a true and personal look into the experience of chaplains and the importance of faith, compassion and friendship during one’s bleakest hour,” said Matt Naylor, president and CEO of the National WWI Museum and Memorial.

Guiding visitors on a journey through the physical and spiritual environment of war, Sacred Service incorporates artifacts, film, images, first-person accounts and, for the first time, interactive 3D digital models. Select objects in Sacred Service will be accompanied by a QR code that leads guests to the digital platform Sketchfab to view the object in 3D. The technology allows an individual to maneuver the object in a digital environment, in some cases even flipping it over so see the bottom or back, otherwise not visible in the exhibition.

Admission to Sacred Service is included in a general admission ticket. A variety of engaging programs will support the exhibition. Stay tuned to theworldwar.org for more information.

Sacred Service is made possible through generous support from Lilly Endowment Inc., the City of Kansas City, Missouri Neighborhood Tourism Development Fund and by donors to the National WWI Museum and Memorial.

guidelines of the Bureau of Apprenticeship, Department of Labor. Products from welding, embroidery, textiles, wood and graphic arts have been made to include the USDB 150th theme design.

Facility tours of both the Old U.S. Disciplinary Barracks and the new facility, which opened in 2002 on land that was once the USDB Farm, were sentimental for those returning to where they worked and being able to share the experience with friends and family members.

It was particularly special for 12 former commandants to tour and see the programs and projects they initiated and to see the vast improvements over the years. Retired Brig. Gen. Colleen McGuire, the first female commandant of the USDB, transitioned the staff, equipment and inmates to the new USDB in 2002.

A walking tour of the Old USDB was conducted by former senior NCOs who worked behind the walls. The tour was a highlight for many USDB alumni, who reminisced about working in the building known as the "Castle".

The day ended with a dinner at the 35th Infantry Division Headquarters, featuring the famous barbecue of the Kansas City area.

On May 21, a plaque dedication ceremony was conducted in the Lewis and Clark Center. The ceremony was hosted by Maj. Gen. Duane R. Miller, commanding general of Army Corrections Command and provost marshal general. The USDB sesquicentennial anniversary plaque will hang in the main entrance hallway of the Old USDB.

USDB retirees, staff and their families, Kansas legislators, and representatives from the Combined Arms Center, Fort Leavenworth Garrison, Federal Bureau of Prisons, Navy Corrections and Army Corrections were among those who attended the unveiling.

Ceremony narrator Charles Davis — himself a former military occupational specialty "95 Charlie" — read a recognition letter from Kansas Governor Laura Kelly and a proclamation from City of Leavenworth Mayor Griff Martin, as well as letters of congratulations from CAC Commanding General Lt. Gen. Milford H. Beagle Jr., and CAC Command Sgt. Maj. Stephen Helton, and Miller and ACC Command Sgt. Maj. Shawn Klosterman.

"We restructured an old system that hindered our core mission — corrections. This is a task uniquely suited for our MP professionals, and now they can perform it more efficiently, upholding the high standards of professionalism the Army, DoD, and our country expects," Miller said, referencing the redesignation from the 40th Military Police Battalion (Detention) to the USDB Battalion (Corrections) in March 2023.

A tour of the Lewis and Clark Center was eye-opening for those who attended the Command and General Staff Officer Course in Bell Hall. The state-of-art classrooms and historical displays were reminders of the important of military education.

The final event was a reception hosted at the USDB commandant's quarters, which has been the quarters for all 56 former commandants.

International military student sponsors still needed

Personal, professional enrichment found by volunteering with Fort Leavenworth Sponsor Program

by David M. Bornn/International Military Student Division, Command and General Staff College

The Fort Leavenworth International Military Student Office Field Studies Program is currently recruiting military (O4 and above) and civilians (GS9/WG6/NAF4 and above) to become local American ambassadors to the international military students invited to the United States to attend the world-renowned Command and General Staff College.

Your personal experience, love of culture and passion for friendship are what make you a highly qualified and capable candidate to become a Fort Leavenworth sponsor. Your service as an international military student's sponsor will be vital to the Department of State and Department of Defense Security Cooperation programs here at Fort Leavenworth and will have impacts to our nation's strategic mission for generations to come. This opportunity has benefitted thousands of members of the Fort Leavenworth community, professionally building cultural empathy and understanding, as well as enhancing the families' experience through relationships created with international military students and their families. These relationships prove to be mutually beneficial for many decades after sponsoring and provide sponsors with friends around the world.

There will be 130 international military students from 104 countries from every combatant command attending the Command and General Staff Officer Course Class of 2025. The Department of Defense and U.S. Army commits to supporting these international military students, and their authorized accompanying family members, through a formal U.S. sponsor program executed by the International Military Student Division Field Studies Program. This robust sponsorship program, unique to Fort Leavenworth, consists of three sets of sponsors for each international military student and is considered the "gold standard" of sponsor programs across the Department of Defense.

The first set of sponsors in this storied program is the "Fort Leavenworth Sponsor," comprised of uniformed military officers major and above, civilians GS9 equivalent and above, government contract personnel and on-post retirees. IMSD directly recruits, trains, and manages the Fort Leavenworth Sponsors as part of the Department of Defense-directed Field Studies Program.

There are two additional sets of sponsors that round out the "sponsor team" so our Fort Leavenworth volunteers in this program will not be alone in this opportunity. The program is supported by the organizations Operation International — a committee of the Leavenworth-Lansing Area Chamber of Commerce, which provides the local civilian "Leavenworth/Lansing Sponsors" — and the Greater Kansas City Chapter of People to People International, which provides the regional "Kansas City Sponsors."

This opportunity would require volunteers to support the incoming international military students during their first month at Fort Leavenworth when they arrive in mid-June by helping integrate the international military students into the post and the local community with your sponsor team.

Sponsor volunteers would also be a partner with the students, as needed and when possible, throughout the year they are here. Volunteers would ensure that the international military students have a safe and friendly atmosphere socially, as well as be an example of the American way of life while here in the United States. During the one year with the international military student, sponsors will attend one sponsor welcome briefing in May to onboard and provide all with the most up-to-date information; one sponsor team and international military student integration icebreaker in July, which helps facilitate the meeting with all three sponsor families and the international military student (with family, if present); one special event from the following three (Fall Food Fair international potluck event in October, holiday dinner dance/military formal event in December, or the Spring Food Fair international potluck event in March); and a sponsor recognition event at the end of May. Additional events that sponsors are invited to attend are the opening day flag ceremony in August, the five "Know Your World" cultural engagements presented throughout the school year, and the International Badge Ceremony and CGSOC graduation in June.

Many sponsors and their families stay connected with their international military student beyond their time here in the United States. Sponsor families can create lifelong friendships that provide impactful experiences for generations after sponsoring.

Sponsors are also recognized for their service, and many of the sponsors earn emeritus status, with some exceeding 45 years of sponsoring. They all started as a Fort Leavenworth Sponsor while on Active, Army Reserve and National Guard duty and/or as a DA civilian or DoD contractor. You could be the next one!

Please consider being a part of the sponsorship family at Fort Leavenworth this year.

Contact David M. Bornn Jr., IMSD Field Studies Program, at 913-684-7323 or david.m.bornn.civ@army.mil if interested in sponsoring, with any questions about the Fort Leavenworth Sponsor Program, or for more information about country availability and the process to become a future U.S. Sponsor Ambassador at Fort Leavenworth.

Faith club + huge plastic bubble + paint = Campus Life Military

Clubbble

Photos by volunteers Tiffany Herring and Brittney Jackson

PCSing vs. non-PCSing students battle in the Fort Leavenworth Campus Life Military end-of-year paint wars "clubbble" event May 15 by Harrold Youth Center. The term "clubbble" comes from combining the youth group-like club with a 50-foot by 20-foot bubble made out of plastic and duct tape and blown up with fans, and adding about 13 gallons of paint for tug-o-war, a dance party, multiple paint battles and a free-for-all.

Clubbble participant Carli Collins smiles through layers of paint during the Campus Life Military end-of year event May 15 by Harrold Youth Center. Ministry Director Samantha Odle said the clubbble event provides "students with a unique and memorable experience to remember Campus Life Military when they leave Fort Leavenworth; create a fun environment where students, small groups and small group leaders can bond and create memories together before a lot of the students PCS; and for our volunteer leaders to have more building time with the students they've been with all school year."

Clubbble participants Audrey Lincon, Emmalyn Pankratz, Krista Moen, Catherine Livingston and Carli Collins.

ABOVE: Seventh-graders pose at the end of the clubbble paint wars May 15 inside the plastic bubble constructed for the event outside Harrold Youth Center.

LEFT: Emma Parenti, Emma Fanning, Aubrey Watson, Grayson Yurisich, Leader Riley Winter, Isis Joel and Maple Suchomski join other Campus Life Military clubbble participants for paint-wars-themed events inside a plastic bubble constructed for the end-of-year event May 15 by Harrold Youth Center.

"Our vision is that all military-connected youth can be engaged in authentic Christ-sharing relationships, regardless of where their families serve, and our mission is to engage military-connected youth in authentic Christ-sharing relationships through the Campus Life Military ministry model, and help other (Youth For Christ) chapters train and equip their staff to do the same," Ministry Director Samantha Odle said. "As a chapter, we partner with local chaplains, churches, schools and other like-minded organizations to reach military-connected youth through unconditional, authentic Christ-sharing relationships. We also help other YFC chapters do the same at military installations close to them."

CHILD & YOUTH SERVICES Youth Sponsorship Program INFORMATION FOR PARENTS

Did you recently receive PCS orders and have a school-aged child or teen that's worried about moving? Maybe you've heard them wonder:

- Who will my new friends be?
- What will my new school look like? What activities/sports are available?
- What are the other kids wearing?

The Youth Sponsorship Program connects your child to another youth in the new community to answer these questions and so much more.

Why should my child request a sponsor? A sponsor:

- Allows your child to get to know their community before they arrive.
- Provides them with someone who can show them the ropes in their new community.
- Helps reduce social isolation, leading to a healthier transition with reduced stress and at-risk behaviors.
- Gives youth a youth perspective of their new community and school.

- Allows you to focus on other aspects of transition, knowing that your child's needs are being met.

What does the Youth Sponsorship Program provide for my child?

- Their Youth Sponsor will provide a welcome packet and information about their new community before arrival.
- Upon arrival, their Youth Sponsor will arrange for them to have a tour of the community and, once you know which school they will be attending, provide information about the school and arrange for a tour there as well.
- The program hosts various activities and events that will help your child meet new people, learn about their school and community.

How do I get a sponsor assigned to my child?

- Once you receive PCS orders, contact the School Liaison Officer at your current installation.
